Representative Experience

Alonzo-Miranda v. Schlumberger Tech. Corp., 5:13-CV-1057, 2015 WL 3651830 (W.D. Tex. June 11, 2015)

- Represented a military veteran with PTSD, through a jury trial presided over by

Judge Royce Lamberth, former Chief Judge for the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. First jury verdict in the nation affirming that a service dog was a reasonable accommodation for a worker with PTSD under the Americans with Disabilities Act. Client subsequently honored at the 2017 National Employment Lawyers Association convention as one of three “Courageous Plaintiffs” selected from around the country.

Keneipp v. MVM, Inc., 15-CV-565-JED, 2017 WL 3197732 (N.D. Okla. July 27, 2017)

- Represented a court security officer who suffered unlawful discrimination because he was regarded as having a disability by his direct employer, MVM, Inc., and the U.S. Marshals Service (USMS), a joint employer. Vigorous litigation based upon a theory of immunity through MVM compliance with USMS directives. Court on summary judgment ruled that MVM could not so delegate its obligations under the ADA, and case settled promptly thereafter.

Chavana, et al. v. TW Restaurant Holder, LLC d/b/a Hooters et al., No. 2015-cv-86, County Court at Law No. 1, Calhoun County, Texas

- Part of legal team representing injured parties in a dram shop case. Wrote computer code to extract and analyze relevant data from more than 99,000 pages of bar tabs. Efficiently identified the most egregious examples of overservice of alcohol and created a Rule 1006 summary of the records showing the bar’s pattern of overservice. Results were integral in achieving favorable settlement.

Slaby v. Holder, 1:12-CV-1235 AJT/IDD, 2014 WL 7692195 (E.D. Va. Apr. 24, 2014), amended, 1:12-CV-1235 AJT/IDD, 2014 WL 7692442 (E.D. Va. Oct. 15, 2014)

Associate on team representing a former Army Ranger with a prosthetic hand in hotly contested disability discrimination case against the F.B.I. After a successful jury verdict, he was reinstated as an F.B.I. Agent.
